

Core Values:

Goals:

- The CTE testing coordinator will provide support to teachers as they work to increase student success on the state approved industry credentials. Regardless of whether the students enter college or move directly into their careers, these certifications are in-demand by industry and make these students more competitive in the workforce directly after high school. This ties directly to the strategic goal of student success.

- The CTE Testing coordinator will prioritize the creation of support materials tailored specifically for teachers, enhancing their ability to facilitate industry credential attainment.

Strategies: Provide learning opportunities in a variety of settings, times, and formats that align with students' knowledge, skills, and personal interests. These work-based learning experiences such as internships and externships support student success in chosen career pathways and higher education pursuits.

Rosaelena O Neil, Georgetown University NVCC Educational Foundation Board
Daniel Marschall, George Washington University

Lida Anestidou, Veterinary Medicine

Anna Lapidus, Student W&L

Cynthia Hatch, NVCC - Associate Director NOVA Workforce

David Remick, WIOA

Diane Murphy, Marymount University, Director, Technology and Innovation

Erik Johnson

Fernando Torrez, Nanotech Computers

Fikile Dlamini Luke

Jim Egenrieder, Virginia Tech, Center for Leadership in Global Sustainability

Luann Moy, Federal Government (Retired)

Meryem Khadrouni, Student Arlington Tech

Nelson Aguilar, Carpenter s Union

Stacy Butler, CVS

Stephen D. Ward, NVCC Associate Dean

Tiffani Nelson-Walker, APS Transportation

Christopher Martini, Director CTAE

Jamie Carfang, CTE Teacher Specialist

Margaret Chung, Principal

Michele Coffman, Capstone Coordinator

Nicole Derocco, Partnership Coordinator

Pamela Nagurka, Work-based Learning Coordinator

Phyllis Gandy, Supervisor CTE

Rosalita Santiago, CTE STEM Specialist

Mail merge

Synergy

Use and create queries

MS Teams

Sharepoint

Use for inner office and Office 365 files

